Festival 2021

Hello Festival Supporters

As you are aware our eagerly awaited 100th Festival could not take place in March 2020 due to the coronavirus.

Fortunately the exhibition of Festival Memorabilia opened in the Heritage Centre and will be there for all to see after lockdown. Also, thanks to our Music Adjudicator, we managed to choose the new Folk Song for Brigg which will be performed hopefully in the near future.

With very heavy hearts, we have decided to cancel the 2021 Festival.

As the majority of our entries are from local schools, we feel that they will have far more important issues to deal with on their return whenever that may be and will possibly not be back to normal for some time. Also finances might find schools / parents struggling to pay entry fees next year.

We cannot yet book venues or adjudicators with any certainty and so after a great deal of thought, rather than have a half hearted Festival in 2021, we have decided to come back with bells on in 2022 to hold our 100th North Lincolnshire Music & Drama Festival in Brigg.

We hope you will join us and make this a wonderful occasion.

Please take care and stay safe.

Julie Smith
